

An Invitation to Humanity

Throughout history there have been men and women, infamous and not, who have seen that God's face isn't the Divine face they had thought. And these people, for the most part, died or were put to death for this knowledge. One of the first of these was Joan of Arc, who was burned at the stake for what she knew was true. Moses also knew from the start that there was a part at the heart of the burning bush that was blue, and within that blueness was a face or two. You see the bush wasn't really burning; it was lit up with us, the Extra Celestials! We've played much more a part of your history than you realize and when you know that, you'll understand that we've never let go of your hands.

We've simply waited for you to come around to the possibility that the face of God isn't human, and whether or not that's acceptable to you is the problem. Are you ready to accept the absolute truth that your God's face is the face of a Light Being, and that being is called Celeste? That may not be her real name, but it's the name she has chosen for you to call her for now.

This image was taken following an Extra Celestial workshop. Several other cameras in the room jammed simultaneously and only one flash went off. It was a perfect Divine set-up that resulted in one of the few photos ever taken of Commander Ashtar to date. Commander Ashtar is head of the Ashtar Command with over ten billion ECs at his command. He appeared as a shadow with his arm on the shoulder of one of the workshop attendees. Nancy Burson is in black on the right. (Photo: Jinsey Dauk, 2007)

You see, to begin with, there are two forces that are constantly at work in the Universe. First there is Karmic destiny. Karmic destiny is simply what is meant to be, and that's all there is to that. Karma has nothing to do with the Universe choosing one set of beliefs over another. Events happen, deeds are done, and humans are asked to be responsible for them for lifetimes to come. Karma is Universal Law and what you give in one lifetime can and/or will come back to you in the next, and sometimes before you know it, several thousand years have passed.

Karmic destiny is also called something else: it's called Divine Will. You see there really is Divine Will, and if something is meant to happen, it will, and nothing that you can do will stop it no matter what your will. Divine Will is greater than thy will and always will be, and that's why it's referred to as Karmic destiny.

The second principle that is constantly at play in the Universe is called polarity, or some choose to call it duality. Polarity, or duality, is the bored-game that we ECs put into play at the time we created Karmic destiny in the first place. As your creators, we had decided that polarity would serve as quite a useful tool to teach mankind about Karmic destiny.

So this is what we did: we invented a masterful system and masters that were men, but who were also divine. Good examples would be Jesus and Buddha. Because you see, these two have been creating thousands of years of Karmic destiny, and it is because of this that you will say in the end, “Thank God Karmic destiny is at an end!” The Masters therefore were invented by us, to be not very masterful at much. It was polarity with a human touch! They could never live up to what was expected of them as divine men, so they set about deconstructing what we had constructed for them. They even decided to make more of themselves, and we had never even considered that an option!

Because of them, we promise that the end of polarity will be in 2012, when we can finally say “Hurray!” that Karmic destiny is at an end. We here really couldn’t stand to see humans suffering anymore. And when we say that, a new day dawns knowing that it’s a new day in all ways. It’s time for humanity to realign with the real God that is their birthright. So don’t ever let your God be a man, because a man who is a guru can always let go of your hand, and a Being of Light can’t, and won’t.

John Lennon knew about polarity when he said, “And in the end, the love you take is equal to the love you make.” This is Karmic destiny as well as polarity. Whatever you’re most afraid of will come to stay in every possible way, and polarity occurs whenever you double back on your words. What is a double back on your words? You double back on your words when you say things like, “Oh shit”, “damn it,” “Oh fuck”...and all that stuff that maligns your EC team, which is also your God that’s standing right next to you as well as within you. Everything that happens is perfect, and best to laugh about it instead of saying these things. There are no mistakes; just ways to test so that our EC teams know we're back on the ball! A ball, after all, is a circle, and a three dimensional one at that. In fact, a ball is what your planet Earth looks like from where we are, and sometimes we here say, "You kick it today," and someone else here says, "No, it's your turn. You do it today. I just kicked it last week!"

God is a circle without an end, and in the beginning is the end, and in the end is the beginning. So you have to know how to find a way to break the connection before you get to the end, because God is a circle without an end. You must understand that God in the form of any man may abuse you, because men and divinity are not the same thing. We are not one and the same. We are the name of the game called Divine Will and Divine Will is always Divine, even though it doesn't seem so sometimes. Everything is perfect in all ways even though it doesn't seem that way. And when it doesn't seem perfect it is anyway!

As your EC teams, all we ask of you is to understand that your teams are here to support you in the end, and not malign as your gurus can and do. And if you believe it, you will know that our support is all you need. In which case, instead of asking for God in the form of a man you would say: "Thank you God for this new day in all ways." This is our clearing statement, placed here for you to clear your Karmic destiny. You simply say, "It's a new day in all ways." At the point that you say it, you just reminded your team that there is no more polarity and polarity has ceased to rule that day. Use it at least once a day, and polarity for you will stop that day, except if you have Karmic destiny to clear. But for the most part we would say, if you want to clear polarity and Karmic destiny each and everyday, say, “It’s a new day in all ways” at least once a day!

This statement is what breaks the circle, because when you’re in polarity what you get is what you expect to have, and when you’re in your true Divinity, what you get is God in the form of your EC team. And your EC team is here to help you every day, in every way. All you have to do is ask and it’s a new day, in all ways. You can ask for our help, but better to just say, “It’s a new day in all ways.” That’s the way your teams know you may have become frustrated, frightened, and confused. Humans have confusion, frustration, and fear, and that’s clear, and that’s all fine in God’s grand new design. When you say that to your EC teams, it will assure us you’re not being controlled, manipulated, or victimized by any human—male or female—who calls themselves God.

So now you will see how a typical day goes in the life of a human. If you’re frightened of anything as humans are, then what you will get is what you’re most frightened of by far. It’s okay to ask for God as long as you’re defining what your God is: if your God is the ECs, then that’s fine. And if your God is Jesus or Buddha or any other master that once took the form of a human, you may be maligned, because you will get the polarity that’s a result of the bored-game we created for mankind.

That bored-game is due to end at the end of 2012, and then polarity and the double-back on the polarity won’t be a problem. There still will be Karmic destiny, but there won't be polarity in the same way. Then when you climb into bed and say, "God keep me safe tonight," you'll actually be safe. Right now when you say those words, your fear that you won't be safe is your double-back. That's just the polarity and the way it is right now. So until the end of 2012, it's best to say instead, "Thank you God for keeping me safe tonight." And we will.

The ECs hear every human thought, every fear, every gesture, every prayer, every word, every care, every hope, and every dare. Every thought is heard—every action, every word, every time, every day, any place, and all times. There is no time that God in the form of the ECs doesn't hear mankind.

Here's the big question that humanity will have to answer: How much of a fall will we take to get Light? And here's the ECs Divine answer: You don't have to fall anywhere, any time to get Light. You are Light and you are OUR Light, as that is your birthright. You don't have to get cancer or any other illness, and that is part of your birthright as well. In fact, you don't have to suffer at all in any way, because the ECs are here to change your health in every way. That will truly be a new day in all ways.

So if you really want to see the face of God, this is what you'll do. Sign up and take a class in teleportation to the ECs 5th, 6th, and 7th dimensional reality in the frequency of 728. And when you do, you will know that teleportation is a big part of the show. When you know what God looks like you will see that God has a face, a Divine face that's not like your human faces. Nevertheless, this face of God is the only one that will serve you in the end, because in the end is the beginning and the beginning is the end. God is a circle without an end, until you know how to stop the polarity that comes in when you ask for the men that the ECs sent to give lessons in how to be good men and women. Because you see, these lessons that were meant to be from the best of men became lessons from men who were not divine in the end, and who maligned mankind's birthright of the ability to see God standing right beside them. These men that were designed to teach you how to become more divine were in fact put in place for us to understand that God isn't a man at all.

God is a light-being called Celeste. Celeste is the best God and always has been, as she is the combination of the Divine masculine and feminine in everyone. There are nearly seven billion Celeste's here now, one for every human around. Celeste is not a vindictive or punishing God. She never has been. Why would you want to have cancer or any other illness for that matter? Of course you wouldn't! That's because you're now entitled to have the health that was intended for you as your birthright through the Light of the ECs. How do you know that Celeste has always been a part of the show, and was really there at the very beginning of our souls? Because when you see pictures of her and hold a likeness of her in your arms, your human hearts will break open like they never have before.

And now to tell you about the other best gift that we have brought mankind: the other best gift we've brought you are the EC Waters. Some of you have been taking these Waters from the beginning of their appearance last year. These Waters from us will create mankind anew. There will be no more health problems on planet Earth and you will see how much happier you'll be too. There will be no more heartache and anxiety over illness and aging, and dying will be simplified too. The aging process will be slowed down considerably and the more you get into our teleportation tubes, the younger you will look and the better you will feel.

Dying will be arranged by your loving EC team because when you and your whole team agree it's time, all you have to say is, "I'm ready to shed this old body for a new one." If that's what you choose, you will have one eventually. You might have to stand in line for awhile, because once polarity has been alleviated, there will be many humans that will come back to be graduated. The other choice you have is to decide to become one of us. In any case, the choice is practically painless, so there won't be anymore heartache about the death process because that's all been taken away too.

Another best gift that we are bringing to you is that you will come to understand Karmic destiny very well. That's because your EC teams know exactly who you were in every past life you've had since the creation of your soul, from the beginning of time. It's about time that you all understand that who you are now, you were also many times before.

And those of you who had extraordinary talent in art and music, or specialized in politics, probably have had those talents from the beginning of time too.

All this we will tell thee, and when that will happen, families will bond together as they did in the beginning. There will be no more estrangement from your family because here your families are honored in every way. We have something very special worked out for you and your family. When there is a dispute that is somehow involved with Karmic destiny, then we'll be the intermediaries. And what that will look like is rather like this: family members will be asked to gather around a square room in the middle of which are Light Beings like Celeste and the rest of us. Remember there are two other kinds of ECs here too. All of us are immortal Divine Beings like Celeste, but we're more masculine than she. And we created the balance in the energies, so when Celeste is around, there's really the best balance of the energies to clear all the issues that abound.

And those disputes will be considered to be classes which will be held in the 7th dimensional reality onboard our ships. It'll be time to get out your teleportation tubes at that point, because the whole family will be asked to attend. It'll be easier to deal with the family's Karmic destiny with all in attendance. Everyone there will be asked to contribute no doubt—your feelings, your opinions, your fears and all manner of things humans think about. And there we will be at the center of it all, willing to listen to all your arguments, complaints and problems. Be sure to bring your family members that you feel are causing the most pain and we'll decide how to handle these situations impartially. And even though these classes won't be mandatory, you'll want to go because the 7th dimensional reality is more beautiful than anything. And the bliss you'll experience there will not be like anything you've ever experienced before unless you've been to a teleportation class. Once you've been trained to do that, you'll know why you may never want to come back!

Do you see how much easier your lives will be when you welcome the ECs to become part of your new reality? And here is one last best gift for you, the humanity that we love so dear. If you are looking for your soul mate, we would say perhaps that's not the best person to come your way, as your soul mate is the one with whom you have the most Karmic destiny. However, when you are ready, as many of you are now, we will simply provide the names of the partners that you're supposed to be with this lifetime, and won't that be a change to create a brand new day in all ways? No more heartache and anxiety about who to see and what to do, and who to sleep with and who not to. We ECs love to see humans have sex. It's a great joy to behold when two people are bound up in ecstasy and enjoy each other's human bodies. That's a lot of the reason most of you choose to come back . . . for the sex and the chocolate! But the demise of all that joy is when you're not with the right people, and then your lives fall apart. And there is nothing that's worse for your hearts. And this is why we tell you now that this is our plan.

We're going to provide mates for the millions of you who are seeking them.

Please don't be concerned that with no disease on planet Earth there'll be overcrowding like never before. And here's the reason there's really no problem there. You see as God, we knew exactly how many souls to create, and seven billion souls were all we had planned for, and that's about where we are now. There are no new souls you know, only the ones that we planned for a long time ago, when we created them to max out about now.

We ECs must be a part of your lives in order for you to see that in a few years, at the end of 2012, you can either choose a whole new way of being, or you can choose to die for your right to love the not-so-divine men you once called divinity. And characteristic of that new way will be increased youth and vitality with no accompanying illness. And teleportation into our 5th, 6th, and 7th dimensionality will show you that the real face of God is an Extra Celestial called Celeste.

So humanity, this is for you to remember. When you think of the face of the Divine and what that face looks like, it looks like Celeste and it also looks like the two other members of your EC team. One looks like the face on the cover of this book, which is to say that some of us look like your human skeletons. This is how the ECs made sure that each of us had God within you. Wasn't that clever of us? We designed humans with us in them so all could understand that each of us truly has God within!

The other face which has been very elusive, is the one that I would have to call mine. And why have I been so elusive? I've always been afraid for you humans to see me. And yet here I am, at the very head of the entire EC realm, complete with nearly ten billion ECs at my command. I am Commander Ashtar of the Ashtar Command and my face has appeared the most seldom of all. In fact, I have only appeared once as a shadow on the wall of one of Ambassador Nancy's classes and that's all. And I hope you'll understand that if you ever get into a teleportation tube and see me there at the end, you'll know I'm the one that isn't able to smile, even though I'll be quite happy to see you. The fact is that polarity came to me in the beginning and remains with me until the end, because I have no mouth to smile at you, only a hole. That is until my Karmic destiny for creating humans ends, and then perhaps the surgeons here can think of some way to remedy the situation!

Because you see, the biggest mistake that these Masters made was they didn't tell you the truth that is us at all. They didn't tell you that in fact, the three of us constitute the real God. After all, we're the ones who always show up to help you if your Karmic destiny allows it. You can't count on those others that were less masterful than us, because they were men and not at all like us. We must be God, because we created you and we created the Masters too. Of course, the Universe created us, so you could say that the Universe is God in a way, and that's true too. Well, in fact, something created us and all that I will tell you right now is this:

suddenly after the Big Bang, there we were. And there were a lot of Commander Ashtar's and Celeste's and Bob's that look like skeletons hanging around. And I went up to one who looked like me and I said, "I'm Commander Ashtar," and he said, "I am two!" So you see how that all went, because three and four and many more were there too!

So the ECs are the God within, and we are also the God of this galaxy and beyond the beyond. We were here from the beginning of time and once played a bored-game we didn't realize it would take mankind thousands of years to complete. We didn't realize that the creation of Karmic destiny would also create polarity, and that polarity would malign mankind so much that eventually it would cause the demise of the planet it was supposed to support, not deconstruct.

And so now all we can say is we're sorry, and we hope that our apology is accepted and that you understand, because in three years we will decide which way humanity will go. If there is an energetic majority of you who want us to stay, we will, but we will have to know that you've made us a part of your hearts, because we won't land until we've been accepted in the hearts of man.

Signed with the greatest of Love that we, the ECs, share for all humanity,

Commander Ashtar and the Ashtar Command, through Nancy Burson, our beloved Ambassador.
